The Kahala Mandarin recycles newspaper, white paper, cardboard, glass, and aluminum, and wet garbage through Eco Fed. It donates materials to non-profit organizations and reuses old towels, tablecloth, etc. as cleaning rugs. The Staff uses cotton bags instead of plastic bags whenever possible and office paper with 30% post-consumer content. The Mandarin also uses hydroelectric air conditioning (cooled by ocean water) and the heat from the air conditioning used to heat the swimming pool and part of the domestic hot water. The use of water based paint to avoid hazardous chemicals. Hotel guest rooms are fitted with low flow shower heads and toilets. Fluorescent light bulbs are used whenever possible. Kahala Mandarin has adopted Waialae Beach Park for clean up three times a year and provides environmental training as part of induction.

bill.kirk@sheraton.com

The Sheraton has low flow restroom facilities throughout the property. To lower electricity usage, the Sheraton uses heat exchangers and pumps, fluorescent bulbs, and special tinting on Southern, Western, and Eastern exposure rooms. The following items are recycled: kitchen grease, food waste, glass, cardboard, newsprint, aluminum, and all paper products and/or diverted from the waste stream. The majority of paper products purchased are from recycled materials and vendors are encouraged to use recycled products as well as reduction of packing materials delivered. The Sheraton is the only hotel in the State that utilizes a sorting room to redirect all guest room waste toward recycling.
